VICTORY FOR STRIKERS.

Philadelphia Street Car Workers Resume Their Labors.

TO REINSTATE DISCHARGED MEN.

All Who Were Not Dismissed for Drunkenness, Malfeasance or Flagrant Violation of the Company's Rules to be Reinstated. The Last Day One of Excitement.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—The great trolley strike, in all probability, off late last night Mayor Warwick succeeded in inducing a proposition to be made looking to an amicable settlement of the trouble. The proposition comes from the Union Traction company to the strikers and is that if the men will come back to work and peace is restored, the management will consider and considerately receive any committee from the ranks of their own employees, and will hear their complaints and grievances, and remedy the same within the range of fairness. The proposition was given by the mayor to Rev. Dr. Baker and Mr. Griffith, of the Christian League, and it was authorized to be made by the traction company.

Here is the formal agreement: "We, the undersigned, have been empowered to present to the employees of the Union Traction company the above proposition. We believe it will be faithfully and honorably carried out. And we pledge our co-operation to this end. Moreover, it is our understanding that all men who have been discharged recently shall be taken back, unless discharged for drunkenness, malfeasance or flagrant violation of the company's rules."

BEFORE THE SETTLEMENT.

The Strike Leaders Had Sent for Debs and McBride.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—The strike leaders last night sent telegrams to Eugene V. Debs, president of the American Railway union, and John McBride, of the American Federation of Labor, asking them to come to this city forthwith. A reply from Debs was received. It said: "Will come on as soon as possible." He is in Terra Haute, Ind. McBride is thought to be in Indianapolis, and the dispatch was sent there. No answer from him had been received up to a late hour.

President Mahon, of the Amalgamated Association, who is leading the strike, declared that all efforts to bring about a settlement with the Traction company having failed, the strikers would fight it out to the end. Chairman Lutz spent the evening consulting with lawyers, and there is a possibility of court proceedings being taken to force the company into arbitration, under the act of assembly of this state, passed in 1893. There is no doubt that nothing less than a judicial order will induce the company to arbitrate. They have all along steadfastly refused to deal with any representative of labor organizations, and the bringing on of Debs and McBride will certainly intensify them the more firmly in their position.

Noka car was running last night, although they ran with more frequency during the day than at any time since the struggle began. The formidable police regulations were effective in maintaining order pretty generally. There were two outbreaks in the afternoon, however, both violent. As five cars of the Thirteenth and Fifteenth streets division were passing a block of industrial establishments at Thirteenth and Buttonwood a mob of 500 employees attacked them. The cars were well filled with passengers, who crowded on the floor when the stones began to fly. Two women were struck and had to be removed to hospitals, though they were not dangerously injured. Another small riot occurred almost at the same time on Fifth street. Car windows were smashed, but no one was much hurt. Six arrests were made.

The order posted on Thursday for the men to return to work yesterday morning on pain of dismissal was generally ignored. Several hundred "scab" workmen from other cities, mostly from the west, arrived during the day, but none went to work. It is likely that so far as the strikers are concerned, nothing will be done until the arrival of Debs and McBride. There is talk of a parade by the organized labor of the city when these leaders get here, but an order prohibiting any such display has already gone forth from the authorities.

Ninety charges have been indicted by the grand jury.

Train Robbers Driven Off.

MIDTOWN, Ind., Dec. 21.—At midnight half a dozen men, with pistols drawn, boarded a south-bound passenger train on the Cincinnati and Louisville division of the Lake Erie and Western railway and ordered the passengers to stand and deliver. Conductor Detmerman attacked a robber with a poker. A general fight ensued, in which the passengers and trainmen helped. Not a shot was fired. The robbers fled to the woods, taking with them some overcoats and umbrellas. The train was delayed twenty minutes. The attack was between Montpelier and Keystone, in the heart of the oil fields.

Life Imprisonment for a Child Patriot.

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 21.—Private advice from Cuba reports that a young Spaniard, captured on Nov. 19, having been wounded on the road leading to Cartagena shortly after the engagement with Hernandez's band, according to La Discusion, was tried at Matanzas by a court martial on the 14th and sentenced to life imprisonment and perpetual chains.

Flames Among Fireworks.

JERSEY CITY, Dec. 21.—The fireworks factory of Charles Gerhardt, on the Plank road, near the Hackensack river, was destroyed by fire. The fire was preceded by a terrific explosion that shook houses for miles around and awoke half the residents of Bergen Heights. The firemen were handicapped by a lack of water, and before they could arrive the whole plant was burned. The damage was about $10,000.

Pennsylvania Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The president yesterday sent to the senate the following nominations of postmasters in Pennsylvania: Hambleton P. Wilson, Altoona; Clayton E. Williamson, Jersey Shore; James Carson, Sharon; Frank Straug, Westfield.

Murdered by His Nephew.

LONGVIEW, Ala., Dec. 21.—A. B. Payne, postmaster at this place, was murdered yesterday by Jasper Nabors, his nephew. Nabors is a lad and became infatuated with Jane women, and when Payne remonstrated with him he borrowed a gun, came to the postoffice and shot Payne while he was at work. If caught he will be lynched.

Wading Hostlers.

VINCENNES, Ind., Dec. 21.—Pursuant to a call by Mayor Green, a mass meeting was held last night to endorse the firm stand taken by President Cleveland in upholding the Monroe doctrine. The meeting was largely attended by all classes, some stirring and patriotic speeches were made and strong resolutions were adopted.

THE PRINCE OF LIARS.

Harry Hayward's Dying Statement a Tissue of Falsehoods.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 21.—The impression is growing that Harry Hayward, the prince of liars in life, left his masterpiece of falsehood to follow after his death in the remarkable ante-mortem statement. Not only are there many internal evidences that he told many sensational tales simply from a desire to pose as a great criminal and to give his cousin, Goodsell, a good thing, but it now transpires that Harry told at least three persons characterized the statement as a pack of lies.

W. W. Hayward, his father, publishes a statement in which he declares that Harry told his parents before the confession that they need not worry about what he said as it was to be a tissue of lies constructed to meet the demand for sensation. He assured them that he had told them and them alone the whole truth. After making the statement he told his attorney, John Day Smith, that he had taken certain well-known facts and woven around them plenty of lies. "The public want lies," he said, "and I will give them lies."

To the specialists who examined his skull and brain at the autopsy and pronounced him a degenerate the statement is principally interesting from a psychological point of view, as lending weight and evidence to their theory. The demand for the confession in pamphlet form is phenomenal, and the first edition of 125,000 has already been exhausted.

A Day of Excitement on Wall Street.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Yesterday was a day of excitement on Wall street, and matters for a time bore the resemblance of a panic. Before the opening of business it was announced that $3,400,000 in gold would be sent out of the country, and later in the day the export of $69,000 was announced. This, together with cable advices from London, announcing extensive sales of American securities, and the tenor of the war news from all quarters was responsible for the general feeling of uneasiness that prevailed early in the day. The spirit of the market was to sell, and in the big exchanges this was done to an extent rarely before surpassed. In the stock exchange the sales for the day were 773,701 shares.

Carnegie Wildly Excited.

CANAGUA, Dec. 21.—The excitement caused by President Cleveland's message to congress on the Venezuelan question does not subside in the least degree. In the Washington plaza a great concourse gathered and again expressed their gratitude to the United States. From that point the people proceeded to the house of the minister from the United States. There they became uncontrollable, and nearly wrecked Mr. Thomas' abode in their eagerness to prove their loyal friendship to the country which he represented.

Canada Denies Envoirement.

OTTAWA, Dec. 21.—The attention of the boundary commissioner, Mr. King, was called to the resolution presented to congress by Representative Davis, of Minnesota, asking for information relating to the occupation by Canada of United States territory in Alaska. Mr. King says that the United States authorities have only to examine the records of surveys made by their own men to satisfy themselves that Canada had not encroached upon their territory.

Steamer Spree Still on the Rocks.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—Another effort was made at the height of flood tide at midnight last night to float the North German Lloyd steamer Spree, from New York, which is stranded on Warden ledge, Isle of Wight, but the attempt was unsuccessful. Six powerful tugs working in concert, aided by the Spree's engines, failed to move her an inch from the position on the rocks of the ledge.

Austria Buys a Legation Site.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Austria is the third European power to acquire in fee a site for its legation in the United States. The property on Connecticut avenue, known as the Yenice house, built by the late Senator Yenice, of Florida, and directly opposite to the British embassy, was purchased for Mr. Ladislaus Hengelmuller von Hengervor for the sum of $50,000.

Killed His Child and Himself.

BROOKLYN, Dec. 21.—William Supleben, a German, 21 years old, who had separated from his wife, sent for his little 4-year-old daughter, who was in the custody of a neighbor, on the plea that he wished to have a crayon portrait of the child made. Subsequently he wrote to his wife asking her to call on him. She reported the matter to the police, and when an officer went to Supleben's room he found both father and child shot dead. It was doubtless the murderer's intention to kill his wife also.

Stabbed by Her Worthless Husband.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 21.—The dead body of Irene W. Moser, aged 27, who was about to become a mother, was found on the street. She had been stabbed to the heart. The woman worked in a tobacco factory, supporting herself and three children, from whose father she was divorced a few months ago because of his cruelty and shiftlessness. Moser, who was arrested, has confessed.

Pittsburg Officials Indicted.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 21.—The grand jury rendered true bills in all of the nine indictments which charged Moreland and House with having made contracts with the Allegheny National, First National and Tradesmen's National banks to use city funds for personal gain. The penalty for each offense if found guilty is a fine not exceeding $1,000 and imprisonment not exceeding one year.

A Massachusetts Woman's Appeal.

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart Phelps Ward has just sent a letter, dated at Newton, Mass., to President Cleveland in which she protests against any situation which may have a tendency to cause trouble between the United States and Great Britain. She says she "appeals in the name of every woman in the land."

A DAY OF SURPRISES.

The President Sends an Anti-Process Message to Congress

URGING FINANCIAL LEGISLATION.

House Republicans Decide to Ignore the Adjournment Resolution and Continue at Work.—The Senate Passes the Venezuela Commission Bill Without Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Yesterday was a day of excitement and surprises in Washington. Events moved with rapidity, and when the sun went down public men in all branches of the service were nervous and worn out from the tension. Reports came of panic in securities throughout the country and here in Washington affairs moved at the rapid pace of a kaleidoscope. The House Venezuelan commission bill was amended in minute respects by the senate foreign relations committee, and then by a sudden change in sentiment in the senate was passed unanimously just as it came from the house. Then an adjournment resolution from today over the holidays was passed by the senate, only to be followed by an urgent message from the president, strongly advising prompt action for the reform of our currency system and the maintenance of public credit.

At the other end of the avenue the president and his cabinet received prompt advice of the course of events here and on the public exchanges. The cabinet held two sessions, something without precedent in recent years. Secretary Herbert, who returned from New York this afternoon, attended the second meeting for a brief time. All of the remaining members of the cabinet were present except Secretaries Langdon and Smith, who are out of town. The financial situation was the principal topic of conversation, and the result of the meeting was revealed in the message sent to the senate late in the afternoon, the body being kept in session by request from the White House for its reception.

The message was not favorably received in the senate. The summary adjournment upon the motion of Senator Cockrell, one of the Democratic leaders, immediately after the conclusion of its reading, was taken on the Republican side as a disposition not to consider the message seriously.

The action on the Venezuelan commission was the culmination of a debate adding a memorable page to congressional history. It was a day of notable speeches by both sides. The subject of war between the United States and Great Britain was the prevailing theme, which found expression in lofty patriotic sentiments, in stirring appeals for preparation and defense, in graphic portrayals of the horrors of war, and at times in defiant warnings to the people across the water.

By a singular coincidence the session which was to be marked by such vigorous debate and action, was opened by an invocation of classic beauty from the blind chaplain of the senate, breathing the spirit of good will between the two prominent English speaking nations. This was speedily followed by the adoption of Mr. Allen's somewhat ironical resolution, calling on the finance committee to investigate the needs of the unbalanced coinage of silver.

At all times during the four hours of discussion the galleries were besieged by an eager crowd, whose patriotic impulses found frequent expression in applause, which the presiding officer sought vainly to suppress.

The most notable utterances of the day were those of Senators Sherman, Teller, Mills, Lodge, Platt, Turpie, Chandler, White, Caffery, Call and Stewart, representing the three shades of political sentiment, and yet in the main uniform in urging the support of the president, vigorous assertion of the Monroe doctrine, and, if need be, any action essential to maintain the national dignity.

There were strong expressions, also, against the panic in American stocks and securities which it was said the London commercial houses were seeking to bring about. Throughout the debate, there was an undercurrent of feeling that, while the country would not shrink from war if it must come, such a calamity was not imminent.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

He Urges Financial Legislation Before the Holiday Adjournment.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—President Cleveland's financial message, which was not delivered to the senate until 1:20 yesterday afternoon, is in substance as follows: "In my last annual message the evils of our present financial system were plainly pointed out and the causes and means of the depletion of government gold were explained. It was therein stated that after all the efforts that had been made by the executive branch of the government to protect our gold reserve by the issuance of bonds amounting to more than $162,000,000, such reserve then amounted to but little more than $29,900,000, that about $16,000,000 had been withdrawn from such reserve during the month next previous to the date of that message, and that quite large withdrawals for shipment in the immediate future were predicted. The contingency then feared has reached us.

"We are in the midst of another season of perplexity caused by one dangerous and fatuous financial operations. These may be expected to recur with certainty as long as there is no amendment in our financial system. In this particular instance our predicament is at all influenced by a recent instance upon the position we should occupy in our relation to certain questions concerning our foreign policy, this furnishes a signal and impressive warning that even the patriotic sentiment of our people is not an adequate substitute for a sound financial policy.

"Of course, there can be no doubt in any thoughtful mind as to the complete solvency of our nation, nor can there be any just apprehension that the American people will be satisfied with less than an honest payment of our public obligations in the recognized money of the world.

We should not overlook the fact, however, that aroused fear is unreasonable and must be taken into account in all efforts to avert public loss and the sacrifice of our people's interests.

"The real and sensible cure for our recurring troubles can only be effected by a complete change in our financial scheme. Pending that, the executive branch of the government will not relax its efforts nor abandon its determination to use every means within its reach to maintain before the world American credit, nor will there be any hesitation in exhibiting its confidence in the resources of our country and the constant patriotism of our people.

"In view, moreover, of the peculiar situation now confronting us, I have ventured herein to express the earnest hope that the congress in default of the inauguration of a better system of finance will not take a recess from its labors before it has, by legislative enactment or declaration, done something not only to remind these apprehensive among our people that the resources of this government and a scrupulous regard for honest dealing afford a sure guarantee of unquestioned safety and soundness, but to reassure the world that the ability and determination of our nation to meet in any circumstances every obligation it incurs do not admit of question."

HOUSE WILL NOT ADJOURN.

Will Remain in Session to Enact Financial Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Yesterday's session of the house was purely a perfunctory affair. The speaker was ready to announce the committee's report, and the house was ready to adjourn for the holiday recess, but the fact that the senate had not yet acted on the bill for the appointment of the Venezuelan commission forced the house, after waiting an hour and a half, for the senate to act, to adjourn until today. The only business transacted was the passage of a bill for changing the terms of United States courts in Iowa and the presentation of a notice of contest against Representative Jones, of Virginia, on the ground of fraud.

The president's anti-process message produced a number of conferences last night, the result of which probably will be a complete change of plans for a holiday recess, and the inauguration of the real work of the session two or three weeks in advance of the time when it would have begun but for the message.

In the senate an effort will be made today to secure the reconsideration of the adjournment resolution, and the house will proceed to business, as if no adjournment resolution had been adopted. The speaker will appoint his committee, and it appears most probable that if the senate fails to reconsider the adjournment resolution, and send it to the house, that body will decline to accept the senate amendments and thus leave the whole question suspended in the air between the two bodies for the time being.

There is some doubt as to how the senate silver Republicans may act on the question of reconsideration, but if they co-operate with their anti-silver colleagues it is believed such a motion will carry. The disposition among the leading Democrats in the senate this morning is opposed to reconsideration, but the Republicans think it doubtful whether they will adhere to their opposition.

If the Republican fail to carry their point they will let the resolution go the house, in confidence that that body will refuse to adopt the senate amendments and that the adjournment movement will thus be checked.

The house conference took place at Speaker Reed's hotel, and was participated in by Messrs. Dingley, Cannon and other Republican leaders, including senators. The crucial question, which was under consideration for hours, was whether the house should listen to the president's appeal and remain in session to devote its energies to financial legislation. It was finally decided that the house would continue its sittings. To further this plan Speaker Reed, it was said, will announce the committee's report in order that they may organize, and the ways and means, if necessary, pass upon whatever schemes may be offered for the relief of the treasury.

While no definite line of action was talked of the Republican leaders generally conceded that whatever legislation is adopted, if any, in response to the president's message, must necessarily be a temporary plan. To take up any comprehensive scheme to reform the currency of banking system at this particular time was pronounced wholly impracticable. One of the leaders who was in conference with Mr. Reed outlined as a probable line of action to be proposed to the house the issuance of short term certificates of indebtedness or bonds to maintain the gold reserve, with a possible advance of tariff rates in certain schedules, suddenly to bring the revenue up to the expenses of the government. The talk in the speaker's room did not, however, extend to the plans which the house might adopt.

The population plan was the one most talked of by Republicans, and both Mr. Payne and Mr. Dalzell, members of the last ways and means committee, advocated it. Mr. Payne favored the plan proposed in the last congress by Mr. Debs—short term, low interest, small denomination bonds, to be sold to the people, one class to make up the deficiency and another to sustain the gold reserve.

Holmes' Appeal to the Supreme Court.

HARTFORD, Dec. 21.—The executive department received its first paper in the Holmes case yesterday in the shape of a notification that the case would be taken to the supreme court. There has not yet been received any notification to the department that Holmes has been convicted of murder in the courts of Connecticut, and it is regarded as singular that the supreme court notice should be received first.

Not a Candidate for Senator.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 21.—James A. Hays, of this city, who has been a candidate for the United States senate, and who has been his withdrawal from the race, has been told by Mr. W. H. Hays, of this city, that he is not a candidate for the senate.

MINERS BURIED ALIVE.

Terrible Accident in a Mine Near Dayton, Tenn.

TWENTY-NINE LIVES SACRIFICED.

An Explosion of Firedamp Caused the Roof of the Mine to Cave In, Shutting Off the Air and Making It Impossible to Reach Even the Dead Bodies.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 21.—Twenty-nine miners lost their lives yesterday in the Nelson mine near Dayton, Tenn., by an explosion of firedamp. The explosion was succeeded by a terrific crash, which indicated that the roof of the passage which they had entered had fallen in. No avenue of escape was left and there is no possibility that any of the men will be found alive.

The mine is the property of the Dayton Coal and Iron company. The men, both white and colored, including several boys, entered the mine to go to work at 7 o'clock in the morning, but no sign of the awful catastrophe was known until 11 o'clock, when the miners at entry No. 10 found the way blocked by a solid wall of coal and slate.

The entry where the unfortunate miners are entombed ran back more than two miles from the mouth of the mine. The mine is of the kind common in southern coal fields, known as a drift or level vein, straight into the face of the mountain, but before the entry is reached a long slope extends to a level several hundred yards below, at an angle of about twenty degrees. The cars are pulled up from the foot of the slope, where tram cars, drawn by mules, connect with the outside by a cable, which hauls the coal up with remarkable rapidity.

Rescuing parties worked all day and night trying to reach them, but it is probable they will be several days forcing an opening through the wall of the fallen roof, which must be made safe as they proceed. The foul air quickly exhausts the workers, who are relieved by fresh hands. The work will continue day and night till the bodies are recovered.

At the first drift mouth hundreds of women and children soon gathered, and the picture of their grief and despair is heart-rending. Mothers wringing their hands, weeping daughters and little children, sweethearts and grandparents, all in the greatest distress, for they have been told that there is no hope. The mine is ventilated by air shafts or passages. The caving in of the wall in the entry cut off the draught, and death was certain to those who breathed the poisoned air.

The following is a nearly complete list of the entombed miners: Lon Ferguson, Jack Ivestock, William Henderson, John Westfield (colored), John Manis, Josh Bennett, William Alexander, W. H. Davis, Theodore Lane, Will Lane (son of Theodore), Tom Hawkins, John Leach (colored), T. J. Miller, Robert Hamilton, Laney Walker, Charles Washburn, Cyrus Alexander, Will Brotherson, Jim Johnson, Elder Morgan (a son of ex-Postmaster Morgan), John Abel, a white boy, and Will Roddy, a colored lad. The first ten were married.

THE CUMMOCK MINE VICTIMS.

It Is Now Known That Thirty-seven Men Were Killed.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 21.—It is now known that thirty-seven miners were killed by the explosion at the Cummock mine. The cause is still unknown. Twenty minutes before the accident the fire boss reported everything all right. While the work of rescue was going on yesterday the mouth of the shaft was surrounded by a large crowd of people. On one hand was an old mother whose husband and sons were buried in the bowels of the earth. Nearby stood a young wife with a baby in her arms, while brothers, sisters and relatives from far and near stood around weeping and wailing.

When the bodies were brought to the surface several were unrecognizable. The negroes could not be distinguished from the white miners, all being covered with a sooty coat of coal, and many having the face and eyes burned out. Dr. Moore, the principal physician on the scene, thinks most of them died from suffocation by firedamp, but the old miners think nearly all were killed by the explosion. Four-fifths of the dead were married men and their families are left helpless and destitute.

The miners who escaped alive tell thrilling tales. One man, Joseph Smith, had reached the foot of the main shaft when he thought of his son, who was in the division where the explosion occurred. He rushed back into the darkness to where the gas was burning, snatched up his son, who had fallen into a stupor, and carried him to the foot of the shaft. Both were badly burned, but they will live.

Double Murder and Suicide.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 21.—Particulars have just been received here of a double murder and suicide near Castana, Monona county. George Wolf and his wife quarreled, and she went to the home of William Ratledge to live. Wolf went to the Ratledge farm and shot Mrs. Ratledge through the heart. Then he shot his wife fatally. Being unable to find Ratledge he fired a bullet into his own brain.

Big Rise in the Mississippi River.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 21.—The unprecedented rainfall of the past three days has caused a rise of sixteen feet in the Mississippi river. Forty families on the lowlands near Alton, Ill., have been forced to flee to higher ground. Much damage to railroad and farm property is reported from Missouri, but no lives have been lost.

Massacre of Zeitonis Ordered.

BEIRUT, Dec. 21.—A dispatch from Constantinople to the Frankfurter Zeitung says: The Porte has ordered Mustafa Kemal Pasha to attack with 10,000 troops and two batteries the city of Zeiton, and to bombard and destroy it and to massacre the 12,000 Armenians in the city.

A RICH WINDFALL.

A Judicial Decision Makes Hugh Carlisle the Crosses of Alabama.

BERMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 21.—A decree issued by Judge Bruce, of the federal court, dismissing the case of the government against the Tennessee and Coosa Railroad company and Hugh Carlisle, makes Carlisle the largest land owner and the wealthiest man in Alabama.

Congress in 1895 granted 70,000 acres of land in Etowah and Marshall counties to aid in the construction of the Tennessee and Coosa railroad. Carlisle spent $250,000 building the railroad and for the land. Four years ago the government, alleging the road had not been built within the required ten years, filed a bill to oust Carlisle and Congress passed a forfeiture act. One thousand acres on the land have since been sold to pay rent, hoping the government would win, thus enabling them to get a squatters' title. Carlisle will now collect back rents, amounting to about $1,600,000. The land is valuable.

A Kentucky Assassination.

GLASGOW, Ky., Dec. 21.—Miss Anna Steinberger, the daughter of Colonel Robert Steinberger, of the Rocky Hill section of this county, was sitting in her father's parlor alone, when a load of buckshot was fired through the window, tearing off the top of her head. Her cousin, Booker Steinberger, is under arrest. A letter was found among the girl's effects from her cousin, which is a reply to a letter from her, evidently telling him that in order to protect her honor he must marry her. He declared he could not do this, as he is in love with another young woman whom he is to wed on Christmas night.

UTICA, N. Y., Dec. 21.—A passenger train on the Adirondack and St. Lawrence railroad collided with a light engine at Horse shoe Point, 103 miles north of here. Engineer William C. Russell, of the passenger train, a resident of this city, was killed. Engineer Hunt of the light engine, was seriously hurt.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Dec. 21.—The residence of Major Stephen J. Peters, in Bedford county, ten miles from Lynchburg, was entirely destroyed by fire early in the morning, and his son Warren, aged 38, who was the only occupant of the building at the time, was burned to death.

Important Battle Imminent in Cuba.

MADRID, Dec. 21.—A dispatch to The El Liberal from Havana says that Maximo Gomez, Antonio Maceo, Laceret, Suarez, Periquito and Perez, at the head of 10,000 insurgents, have forced the frontier of Matanzas and it is believed that an important battle is imminent, as there are many Spanish troops in that part of the country.

Cheering for the Strikers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The meeting of the executive committee of the Brotherhood of Tailors was held last night. It was announced that about thirty contractors had signed application blanks for the return of their men. Many of the members of the brotherhood believe this to be the beginning of the end of the strike.

NUGGETS OF NEWS.

James Dewitt, held for the murder of his wife at Grayson, Ky., was taken to Ashland to escape a mob that was forming to lynch him.

At Bardonia, Ky., Frank Doherty, a school teacher, tried to assault Mrs. J. W. Nally and she shot him dead.

The discontent in Samoa is assuming dangerous proportions, and something must soon be done to establish a stable government.

Chicago's floods have seriously hampered the delivery of mails in many suburbs. The rainfall in forty-eight hours was nearly six inches.

A farmer named Smith, living near Benton, Ark., fatally stabbed his wife and then blew out his own brains. The couple had agreed to separate, and quarreled over the division of their live children.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was taken down with pneumonia, succeeding laryngitis. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption, and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at McMonagle and Rogers' Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

Where Did I Get This Dreadful Cough? No matter; the great question is, How shall I get rid of it? Use THE PINEOLA BALM, a soothing combination of the remedies nature has put in the pine and other balsamic trees. It cures the inflammation and tickling in the throat and if taken in time will prevent the spread of the disease to the lungs. Ely's Pineola Balm is strongly recommended in cases of asthma. Twenty-five cents is the price. Tell the neighbors about it.

A FAST LIFE.

PLEASURES AND ITS PERILS.

Some Men and Women Who Live at Lightning speed and Will Only Take a Vacation in the Grace—The Pace That Kills.

Times have certainly changed, and in some respects, not for the better. The tide of life and competition is stronger than it was fifty years ago, and like a swimmer with a strong tide against him, one must expend double the energy to win to the shores of success. It makes no difference what goal we aim at, the conditions are the same. We live too fast, work too hard, drink too much, sleep too much less, keep our nerves on the strain and jump all the time. There are two classes of fast liver. Those who work too hard and too long. Those who do not work at all. Both classes are reaching the same end, though, perhaps, by somewhat different routes. They are "burning the candle at both ends," and even a child can predict the result. There will be no candle shortly. Increased speed in ANY machine, human or otherwise, means increased wear and tear and waste. Increased work for the kidneys, whose place it is to remove poisons and impurities. Increased kidney work means increased strain upon those organs, and increased strain without rest or relief means disease. This is why so many fast liver, hard workers, hard drinkers, and hard smokers die of Bright's disease. Many men not satisfied with the harm their overwork or fast life is doing them must needs add to it voluntarily by putting more poisons into the system that still further add to the work of the kidneys and irritate and inflame these organs. We refer to Alcohol, Tobacco and Opium. Surely there are enough poisons and impurities in our blood already without adding more! And yet we do it with the mistaken idea that we stimulate our brains, increase our appetite, or soothe our nerves. Take The Strain Off Your Kidneys. They are toiling day and night in your behalf as it is. Don't add to their burdens unless you are anxious to issue invitation for a funeral. Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are precisely what you need and what your kidney would ask for if they had a voice in the matter. No one advising you to live slower, to work less, to go to bed early, and moderate the gait at which you are going. You simply must do it. You may think you will, but you won't. Then use Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills, and take this terrible strain off your kidney and filter and purify your blood. Fifty cents per box from all druggists, or enclose 50 cents in stamps or silver direct to the SATURDAY, DEC. 21, 1895.

Mr. Reed's well laid plan for a doing nothing policy in Congress seems to have "gang very much agree."

The slaughter of the Armenians goes briskly on, but the Christians of England and America are just now too busily engaged in discussing the possibility of killing each other to be concerned about the fate of Christians in Turkey.

Many of the English papers are disposed to belittle the fighting capacity of the people of the United States. The St. James Gazette is, however, candid enough to admit that "the Americans would fight with all the fierce energy of the race for a principle or an idea, and sacrifice a million men and spend a thousand million dollars to punish what they conceived to be an invasion of their rights or an attempt to work an injustice upon them. We know that, and we respect them for it."

The passage of the commission bill in the Senate, late yesterday afternoon, seems to have been regarded in Wall street as an aggressive step by this Government and as an obstacle in the way of peaceful solution of the Venezuelan issue, hence panic again set in at the opening of the stock market, this morning. Many securities sold for prices which were much lower than were made yesterday. What added greatly to the scare was the money situation, it being generally believed that English and Canadian banking concerns were in league to break the war spirit in this country, and cripple our resources, by tying up the money market.

President Cleveland's message, calling the attention of Congress to the gravity of the financial situation and asking it not to take a recess for the holidays, until by legislative enactment or declaration it had done something to reassure those who doubt, no matter how unreasonably, the country's solvency and good faith, took Congress completely by surprise. The Republican leaders were trying at a late hour, last night, to agree on some plan of action but could not reach a decision. They realize that the President has shifted responsibility from the administration to Congress and that, unless something is done at once, the Republican majority in Congress will be held accountable for any monetary crisis or financial disaster that may follow inaction.

PANIC PRICES IN WALL STREET.

Foreign Selling Orders Break the Market—A Rally but the Market Closed Feverish

WALL STREET, New York, Dec. 18.—Under heavy selling, mostly for foreign account, prices declined to the first hour after the opening of the exchange, from one to nine per cent. Toward 11 o'clock prices rallied from one to five per cent.

The market closed feverish. The Secretary of the Stock Exchange declared absurd the rumor that the exchange was to be closed temporarily. Money on call loaned at one time for twenty five per cent. per annum but was six per cent. at the close.

ENGLISH PEOPLE NOT EXCITED

No War Talk Except in the New-papers—The Cabinet Has Not Discussed the Situation—Talk of the Clubs—The Queen's Anxiety.

BY UNITED PRESS.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The English public cannot honestly be said to be excited over the Venezuelan question. The matter will soon become a newspaper war.

The placidity in official circles may be judged from the fact that no Cabinet meeting has been called to consider the matter, and it is believed no Cabinet meeting will be held until the reception of the dispatch, which it is understood the American Secretary of State is sending containing the views of the United States. Much depends upon the tone of Olney's communication whether the situation will become critical. In the mean time the policy of the government is to "lay low and say nothing."

At the conservative clubs the hope is expressed that Salisbury will maintain the policy of no compromise even at the risk of war.

At the National Liberal Club the dominant tone was one of regret that the quarrel will tend to alienate the people of the two countries.

The Queen is showing the keenest anxiety. Salisbury yesterday sent her a long dispatch.

A "BAD MAN" USES A KNIFE.

Joseph Carroll Gashes John Bradley's Cheek—Made an Unprovoked Assault on Michael Garland and Cut Mr. Bradley When He Interfered—Skips the Town.

Messrs. John Bradley, Michael Garland and P. J. McCaffrey were in the Casino Cafe, about 7:30 o'clock last evening, when Joseph Carroll entered. Carroll immediately took part in the friendly discussion which was going on, much to the disgust of the others. Something which Mr. Garland said ruffled Carroll, and he threatened to strike him, when Mr. Clinton, the proprietor, told Carroll to leave the place.

Carroll laughed the matter off, saying he was only fooling, but watching his opportunity, he struck Mr. Garland twice, knocking him down.

Messrs. Bradley and McCaffrey, who were standing near the lunch counter, rushed to Mr. Garland's assistance, when Carroll drew a jack-knife and struck at Mr. Bradley. Mr. McCaffrey warded the blow off, but before he could disarm the man Carroll had struck at Mr. Bradley again. The point of the knife entered Mr. Bradley's left cheek, inflicting a gash about an inch long, from which the blood flowed profusely.

Breaking away from Mr. McCaffrey, Carroll rushed into the street before the astonished men realized what had happened.

Procuring a stone in the street, Carroll hurled it at the swing doors of the cafe, breaking one of the small mirrors.

He disappeared, and later it was learned that he had boarded the Erie milk train.

Mr. Bradley's wound is painful but not serious.

Carroll has a bad record. He was accused, some time ago, of stealing a horse blanket from Dr. Hulst, but was discharged for lack of evidence to convict him.

On Thursday of last week, he was sent to Goshen for three days in default of $3 fine for an assault upon his employer, H. S. Evans, the brush manufacturer.

He is supposed to have come from Paterson, N. J., and has been around this city at various times for the past three years.

Should he re-appear here he will meet with a warm reception at the hands of the police.

"The Common People."

As Abraham Lincoln called them, do not care to argue about their ailments. What they want is a medicine that will cure them. The simple, honest statement, "I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me," is the best argument in favor of this medicine, and this is what many thousands voluntarily say.

OBITUARY.

Eli P. Farnum.

As was briefly stated, yesterday, Mr. Eli Parnell Farnum, one of Port Jervis's most prominent citizens, died at 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

He was suffering from bronchial pneumonia. Dr. Janeway, of New York, was called in consultation with the family physician and when he left on train 10, yesterday morning, expressed the opinion that Mr. Farnum would recover. Therefore, when his death followed so soon after this cheering assurance, the shock to his family was greater than it otherwise would have been.

Mr. Farnum was fifty-six years old, and was a native of Gilbertsville, Otsego county, but has resided in Port Jervis for the past forty-five years.

He has been one of the most prominent business men in the village and has been identified with the growth and prosperity of the place. He was identified financially with nearly every enterprise in the village and was a large real estate owner.

He was married in April, 1867, to Miss Myra C. Dunn, an adopted daughter of Hon. Francis Marvin, who, with a son, George F., and a daughter, Lillian H., survive him. He is also survived by one brother, Peter E. Farnum, who was his business partner for many years. Personally, the Gazette says of him:

Mr. Farnum was an agreeable gentleman. He had an easy, pleasant manner that made one at once at his ease. Although he was never demonstrative in his polity still there was no man in the village who better loved the pleasures of agreeable society. In fact, he was a very companionable man. He was Vice President of the Deepark Club and no member of the club had more friends. He had a pleasant word for all the poor as well as the rich. His affection for his family cannot be expressed. We have never known a man so devoted to his family. The slightest wish of wife or children was always gratified and the granting gave him great pleasure.

Daniel Corkery.

Daniel Corkery died in New York, Thursday. The body will be brought to this city, on Monday, for interment.

Deceased was an attendant in the State Hospital about twelve years ago. He has for a few years past resided with his mother and sister in New York.

Funeral of Wm. J. Southwell.

The body of William J. Southwell arrived in this city from Cornwall at 10:40, this morning. The funeral was held at the residence of his son-in-law, James Walker, on Hafford street, Eider Benton Jenkins officiating. The interment was in the family plot in Hillside Cemetery.

Wreck on the Newburgh Branch.

The Erie had a wreck on the Newburgh branch, near Craigville, to-day. The section hands had a rail out and did not send their flag out far enough to stop a freight train in time to prevent accident. The engine and one car passed safely over the spot, but all the other cars were derailed, some leaning half over against the bank. The track was completely blocked and it was necessary to transfer passengers around the wreck.

New Year's Reception at the Y. M. C. A.

All the young men of the association and their friends are invited to visit the rooms. The ladies will furnish refreshments.

The entertainment committee of the auxiliary is busy engaged in preparing an excellent programme for the evening.

MAPLE DALE'S DICK TURPINS

Another Farmer Waylaid by Bold Highwaymen.

Mr. O. W. Mapes, of Maple Dale, had an experience with two highwaymen, Thursday night, near the spot where Samuel Writter was attacked, Wednesday night, and doubtless with the same men. A man approached from each side and evidently intended to drag him from the wagon, but the horse made a spring, which carried him beyond their reach, and he lost no time in getting away.

It wouldn't be a bad plan for the people in that locality to lie in wait for the highwaymen and put an end to this business.

The Tomlinson Players at the State Hospital.

The Tomlinson Company visited the State Hospital, yesterday afternoon, and played "Jane" for the amusement of the patients. THE POET TO HIS CAT.

Talk in thy toes, prick up thine ears,
Assume a listening attitude,
And I will tell thee, happy cat,
The tale of thy head and tail.

And when I've told thee all the truth
Just rub my hand in gratitude.

What hast thou to be thankful for
Besides thy far famed attitude?

Thou roamest free, with ample room,
Not housed in cramping flatitude,
And thou hast beds luxurious

On couch and chair and matitude—
Beds which but for thy hairs would be
Adorned with meekest attitude.

Thy days are passed in quietude,
Untroubled by bawling brattitude,
Nor even are thy nerves overworn

By steady stream of chititude.
Simple thy clothing, happy cat,
Untroubled by styles in attitude.

Well mayst thou pity other cats,
Harried and worn by ceaseless state,
For friendly hands are stroking thee

With touch of gentle patitude,
And never once has cruelty
Stirred thee to piteatude.

Noble cat pleasures fill thy life
And swell to high exaltitude.
Thou meetest oft thy catish kind

And join'st in feline spirititude,
And when the fellows go for thee
Thou giv'st them tiffatitudine.

And in the house thou mak'st thy boast
Of cellar cleared of ratitude.
Let other cats their homes desert

Tolly blind as latitude,
Thou'lt never seek diversion from thine
On grounds of ineomparatude.

Now, cat, I've told thee all thy lot
Of happy this and thatitude,
And I expect to see in thee
Appreciative catitude.

—REV. W. N. CLARKE in St. Nicholas.

PRIVATE TUCKER.

He was a plain man, with a plain name. Before William Tucker, Esq., became known to the world of men he had been a plain boy, very good, very tender hearted and very much in earnest about nothing in particular. Smaller boys checked him with impunity and made him fag for them; bigger boys simply ignored him. Grown to manhood, there was but little change in him. His juniors snubbed him and voted him a fool; his seniors for the most part imposed upon him. He submitted to it all with the best possible grace, glad only to be taken notice of in any way and apparently considering that it was the only thing he could expect. Then, as though life itself, as it stood, did not hold sufficient bitterness for him, he fell in love.

He must have known from the very first that it was all hopeless and that it could at the best only disturb his peace of mind. But he went on nevertheless in his own dull, stupid fashion, content only to touch her hand occasionally, to get a sort of second rate smile from her. It is probable that there was no thought of any future in his mind.

He would turn up quite unexpectedly at any place to which he knew she would be going. He would linger about nervously and unhappily in corners, so that he might have the opportunity of looking at her. He seemed to ask for nothing more.

He would carry parcels and run messages for the pretty child—she was but little more—and considered himself well paid if he received only a smile in return.

Once she was ill, and he scarcely left the house in which she lay until she was well again. He haunted it by day. He lingered about aimlessly at night. He ruined himself by his lavish purchases of flowers and hothouse fruit.

When at last one summer day he was told that she was convalescent, and that she would see him, he felt that heaven was within sight.

He was shown out into a garden, where she was seated in a great chair, with all her delicate beauty thrown into stronger relief by the white bearskin rug against which she leaned.

She looked so pale and weak that, if anything could have increased his love for her, her appearance alone would have done it.

"You have been very kind, Mr. Tucker," she said in a low voice, "and I am very grateful. You have done so much for me, and your flowers have been with me every day."

There were tears in her brown eyes as she finished speaking and held out her hand to him. Then it was that William Tucker made the one chief mistake of his life, and in stammering utterances, tried to tell her of the emotion which possessed him. But she staid him with a light hand upon his lips.

"I am more grateful even than before," she said slowly, "but you offer me a gift which I cannot accept. I cannot tell you how sorry I am or how much I believe in all that you have told me. But I love another man, and I love him very dearly."

He was silent for a few moments, standing there with his eyes cast upon the ground like a schoolboy. But he looked up at last, with something of a smile breaking across the whiteness of his face.

"I might have known," he said slowly. "I might have known, above all things, that it is not for such a man as I am to snatch a prize from a man who has known that it was the last and wisest thing for me to remain only your friend—only your faithful dog, who may try to be of service to you sometimes. Can you forgive me sufficiently to let me still hold that place in your thoughts?"

"I shall hope that you will be my very good friend always, Mr. Tucker," she said gently. "I am to marry Lieutenant Lacey. I should like to tell you before."

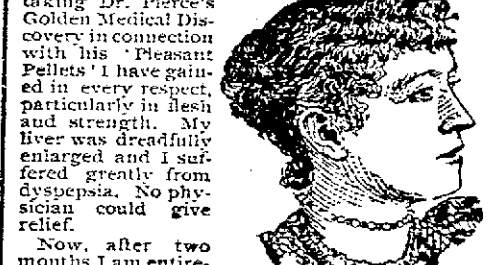

"Believe me, I am very glad," he replied. "I am only a dull dog, but I should be a poor sort of fellow indeed if I did not appreciate your kindness and your confidence."

Thereafter the dull, stupid, commonplace man showed so delicate a tact and was also so cheerfully generous to the man who had taken the place he had hoped to occupy that she grew to have a regard for him that was almost like that of a younger sister for a brother in whom she implicitly believed and trusted. For his part he was proud of the position and would not have lost it for anything else that the world might offer.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Many years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., compounded this medicine of vegetable ingredients which had an especial effect upon the stomach and liver, rousing the organs to healthy activity as well as purifying and enriching the blood. By such means the stomach and the nerves are supplied with pure blood; they will not do duty without it any more than a locomotive can run without coal. You can not get a lasting cure of Dyspepsia, or indigestion, by taking artificially digested foods or pepsin—the stomach must do its own work in its own way. Do not put your nerves to sleep with so-called celery mixtures, it is better to go to the seat of the difficulty and feed the nerve cells on the food they require. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Bilelessness and Nervous Affections, such as sleeplessness and weakness, nervous feelings are completely cured by the "Discovery." It puts on healthy flesh, brings refreshing sleep and invigorates the whole system.

Mrs. K. HENCKE, of No. 856 North Halsted St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I regard my improvement as simply wonderful. Since taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in connection with his 'Pleasant Pellets' I have gained in every respect, particularly in flesh and strength. My liver was dreadfully enlarged and suffered greatly from dyspepsia. No physician could give me relief. Now, after two months I am entirely relieved of my disease. My appetite is excellent; food is enjoyed; much improved."

wife of the editor of The Graphic, the leading local paper of Miami county, writes "I was troubled with heart disease for six years, severe palpitations, shortness of breath, together with such extreme nervousness, that at times I would walk the floor nearly all night. We consulted the best medical talent."

They said there was no help for me, that I had organic disease of the heart for which there was no remedy. I had read your advertisement in The Graphic and a year ago, as a last resort, tried one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart.

It completely cured me. I sleep well at night, my heart beats regularly and I have no more smothering spells. I wish to say to all who are suffering as I did, there's relief until for them if they will only give your remedy a trial."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee. It costs 50 cents a bottle, or $1.00 for 2 bottles. It is sent by mail on receipt of price by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

for. To all others besides herself he was the same dull, stupid fellow that he had ever been.

She came to him one day weeping and in great distress and told him that her lover had been ordered to Africa with his regiment. War was looming on the horizon, and the work there would be desperate.

"I know how brave he is," she sobbed, "and I know that he will go there with no arm save his own to stand between him and death. I think I would give the world to know that there was some one with him who would watch over him and bring him back to me at last."

The words were carelessly spoken—said only in the agony of the moment. But her head was on the poor, foolish fellow's breast, her hands were touching his, and the words spoke to him trumpet tongued, even as a command.

He had no thought in his simple heart but that he might be of service to her and might help this man whom she loved. The next day William Tucker, Esq., left the world wherein men had laughed at him, and Private William Tucker entered the regiment which had been ordered to the front, and of which Lieutenant Charles Lacey was one of the officers.

In the course of time Private William Tucker became merged as a mere unit in the regiment to which he belonged, and, with a certain later purpose in his mind, was glad to lose sight of the world he had left behind and to take his place as one of the rank and file. The latent purpose was never known—at least until the end—but it became a tradition among the rough men with whom he served that wherever the lively and active form of Lieutenant Charles Lacey was seen in the fight, there, close beside him, was one grim faced Tommy Atkins, fighting with a fierceness unknown in the character of the William Tucker, Esq., who had disappeared.

As a matter of fact, Lacey knew nothing about who the man was or whence he came. He had met him but seldom in those old days, and the fact of Private William Tucker was scarcely one to be remembered.

There came a day when Lacey, with a mere handful of men, was sent on a forced march, in an endeavor to join forces with another camp. But the march was not a success, and they presently found that they were cut off, in the midst of the hills, with the day fast closing in, and the hostile, yelling warriors all round them. They closed up silently with a dim feeling upon them that there was but small hope, and fought there steadily and doggedly, while the light faded.

It was a certainty from the first of their being absolutely outnumbered, and they fell one after another, with those horrible black faces swarming round them—with fiendish warcries in their ears, and with only the determination in their hearts to fight to the last for the honor of the flag they served.

There was one gallant young figure standing there and cheering on his men and overawing for a moment even those who swarmed about them. A spear thrust had reached him at last and he staggered backward, with a score of weapons leveled at him. But there was another who sprang in there before him, with a clubbed rifle swung madly round his head—one who knew only that the man he had sworn in his heart to serve was lying there beneath him; one who saw only a woman's face in far off England, as it had lain last on his breast; one who knew that they should not reach the figure at his feet while he had the power to stand and to fight.

"I have come back to you, my darling," Charles Lacey was saying. "When we were cut off there, with a mere handful of men, I little thought I should ever see your face again. I—of all those who were with me—alone escaped, although my wound took a long time to heal."

"But how did you escape?" she asked breathlessly, while she clung to him.

"There was a soldier there—a brave fellow who, for some unknown reason, had stuck to me through all the campaign. They found him lying across me, with a broken rifle in his hand, and they told me that his wounds were frightful—enough to have killed half a dozen men. I only found out afterward who he was. They called him Private William Tucker."

He wondered why she wore a black dress that night at dinner. When he asked her, she said, with the tears shining in her eyes, that it was for the sake of the dead soldier who had sent him back to her.—Illustrated Bits.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at McMonaghe & Rogers Drug store.

"I have used Hood's Pills and have found them very satisfactory."

"Early in the Winter, I took a severe cold which developed into an obstinate, hacking cough, very painful to endure and troubling me day and night, for nine weeks, in spite of numerous remedies. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral being recommended me, I began to take it, and inside of 24 hours, I was relieved of the tickling in my throat. Before I finished the bottle, my cough was nearly gone. I cannot speak too highly of its excellence."

THE NEW YORK TIMES

THE TIMES is a newspaper for intelligent men and women who want to read all the news of the world every day. The paper has distinguished merits of its own. It is neither sensational nor dull. It is not over-tempered. It is not frivolous or visionary. It tells of good in the world and tells about it. It tells of bad when it must, but not unwholesomely. It prints with fullness the record of human endeavor in many fields outside of business, politics and war—in literature, religion, science, art, sports and household matters. No paper in the country prints so many book reviews and so much book news. No paper has so complete a financial page, a daily manual for investors and officers of financial institutions. Its market reports—coal, cotton, breadstuffs, farm products etc.—are the best in the country.

The democracy of THE TIMES is of the old-fashioned sort—as old as Thomas Jefferson's majority rule, no bossism, no machine tyranny, the divorce of politics from private money-making, a sound currency, industrial emancipation and every day honesty. To promote the advance of the democratic party along these lines it labors with heart and conscience and all its might.
